

Treating Your Water

Hard water is tough on you and your home. It can affect your skin, hair, water-using appliances, plumbing, bathtubs, sinks and fixtures, among other things.

Most of us have hardness in our water, whether your water comes from the city or a private well. Installing a non-electric Kinetico water softener can help.

Many people are also concerned about the quality of their drinking water. They may dislike the taste or question what might be in it.

For the best drinking water, right at your kitchen sink, install a Kinetico reverse osmosis drinking water system.

"I've talked for years about building better, building smarter and today especially, about building healthier. I want people to know how to improve and protect things like their water.

I've noticed that many people ignore their water unless it's causing a visible problem. But having good, clean water impacts the quality of their lives. More and more people seem to understand that and are interested in improving their water now. Kinetico can help. Let's get started."

IMPROVING YOUR WATER WITH KINETICO WATER SYSTEMS

Professional Contractor and TV Host

Hi, I'm Mike Holmes.

I love helping people, and that's what I do on my television shows. I teach people how to buy it right, sell it right, own it right and protect it right.

I am so excited to partner up with Kinetico to build awareness of the need for better water. Kinetico is the perfect fit with what I do.

Mike has a Kinetico whole-home water treatment system and reverse osmosis drinking water system installed at his home, and he loves it. He has great water quality with Kinetico, and you can too!

Removing the Confusion and Solving the Problem

Choosing the right home water treatment equipment can be confusing. Your local Kinetico water professional takes away the mystery by testing your water, analyzing your home's water needs and recommending the best Kinetico systems for you, your home and your budget. An expert installation, system startup, periodic checkups and any needed service round out Kinetico's professional treatment.

I rely on the professionals at Kinetico for my water treatment needs. You should too.

A Better Idea

Kinetico helps you take care of your water, so it can take care of you. Kinetico systems work full-time and are specified based on your particular water conditions, so they are perfectly suited for your needs. They are engineered with exclusive features for the ultimate performance.

Kinetico Water Softeners

- Non-Electric
- 24-Hour, Continuous Soft Water
- Highly Efficient
- Minimal Maintenance

Kinetico water softeners provide clean, soft water without the hassles common with other systems. They are fully automatic and regenerate only when necessary for superior efficiency and performance.

Kinetico Drinking Water Systems

- Customized Protection
- Strong Flow
- Minimal Waste
- Industry-leading warranty

Kinetico reverse osmosis drinking water systems protect your water with patented features like the MACguard® Filter which alerts you when to change the filters. Kinetico's EverClean® Rinse automatically cleans the system with high quality water to protect it and ensure every drop of water is good.

Improving Lives Through Better Water

For a half-century, Kinetico has improved lives with the development of innovative water solutions. Kinetico has touched millions of people through clean, healthy, environmentally responsible water. You could be next.
